NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

Fifty farmers are included in the jury panel for the trial of the Cronin suspects. Farmers have a way of calling murder by the right name that is very disagreeable to the prisoner at the bar.

OTTO HUBER, the double millionaire brewer of Brooklyn, is dead in his house to-day, aged 51. The truthful epitaph above his tomb will perhaps read: "He drank his own beer." The average brewer dies young.

The Queen did not mention the Behring Sea question in her speech to Parliament yesterday. This was the hardest blow that Canadian hopes have yet received. Parliament was prorogued till November 16th.

COL. DANIEL LAMONT, late Private Secretary to President Cleveland, has purchased the Broadway railroad in New York for $25,000. The late Jacob Sharp paid nearly as much to each of the boodle Aldermen for their votes to give him the franchise. That enterprise must have been squeezed very dry.

The people of the New Hebrides Islands have asked for annexation to France, but that Government refuses because the act would infringe upon her convention with England. The New Hebrides are almost in the same group as New Caledonia, now owned by France. Their population consists of about 300,000 semi-savages, once cannibals.

MRS. FLACK has come back to Newburgh for a short rest, preparatory to her coming fight for an absolute divorce. The interesting fact is made public that while Flack was representing himself as Mr. Raymond and keeping up a dual domestic establishment undisturbed by reporters, he was allowing his real wife the generous sum of $5 a week. When the bogus divorce performance became public he increased the sum to $25 a week.

NOAH ARMSTRONG, a colored school teacher in Assumption parish, Louisiana, was mercilessly horsewhipped last Wednesday night and ordered to leave the state until after the election next Tuesday. Armstrong was seen by Congressmen Burrows, Rowell, Coleman and other Republicans who are canvassing the district, and the welts raised upon his body are described as horrible. Armstrong had committed no offense, and his whipping was done to terrorize the other colored voters of the district and keep them from the polls.

The State Normal School at Onondaga is to be opened with appropriate ceremonies on Wednesday. Superintendent Draper, who is to deliver the address, says the building is the finest Normal School edifice in the state, and the number of applications by students are unprecedentedly large. The latter fact furnishes his own comment upon the Governor's recent veto. If Normal Schools are well attended, the state can afford to build and sustain them. It is better to have them crowded than the penitentiaries, jails, reformatories and lock-ups, even though they do not invariably turn out Democrats.

The Governors of states who have written letters in favor of the removal of Gen. Grant's remains to Washington, are Fifer of Illinois, Shoup of Idaho, Francis of Missouri, Moore of Washington, White of Montana, Thomas of Utah, Taylor of Tennessee, Merriam of Minnesota, Fleming of Florida, Beaver of Pennsylvania, Stevenson of Nevada, Wolfley of Arizona, Luce of Michigan, Larrabee of Iowa and Humphrey of Kansas. The movement is a part of the fight between New York and Chicago for the Columbus Centennial, and is strongly calculated to discredit New York in the minds of the Western people. The Grant monument should be built at once.

CARLISLE GRAHAM went over the Horse-shoe Falls at Niagara yesterday in a barrel, and came out alive and not seriously injured, though greatly shaken up. He is satisfied with his experience, and will never try it again. He describes going over the many ledges, which look so small from the shore, as "like dropping from a mountain." He could only realize the going down and down, and was not conscious of a jar. The roar of the falls was so terrible that he never wants to hear it again. Graham has undoubtedly made an enduring reputation. But if he ever dreamed of a fortune from running excursion boats over the cataract he has given it up.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN's brother-in-law Nisan W. Edwards is dying at the age of eighty in Springfield, Ill. His wife was Elizabeth Todd, sister of Mrs. Lincoln. He was once Attorney General of Illinois, and in 1886 was with Mr. Lincoln a member of the Legislature. But his illness recalls the fact, which ought to be very interesting to Democrats at this time, that the President whom they used to call a "rail-splitter," a "baboon," an "ape," a "tyrant," and other names equally choice, was once guilty of the very nepotism act of appointing Mr. Edwards a United States Commissioner. This casts into the shadow the appointment by President Harrison of his son's wife's uncle's brother-in-law to a Postmastership.

The strike demonstration in Hyde Park, London, yesterday was attended by 150,000 workmen. The resolution to continue the strike till it succeeds was adopted with great emphasis. But the Economist predicts trouble if it succeeds. The demand for four hours as the minimum of a day's work will, it says, largely increase the number of men seeking work at the docks. Only a few will be benefited, while the lot of the many will be harder than ever. "The law of the survival of the fittest will be exemplified by the strike, the wide-reaching consequences of which will be unprecedented in London's history." American workmen will please make a note of the fact that the plan of making a day's work four hours long and paying 12 cents an hour or 48 cents a day is expected to throw thousands of men out of work and starve them to death in that great centre of free trade, the English metropolis.

FIGHT BETWEEN WHITES AND NEGROES
An Alliance Formed by Colored Men—Conflicting Stories of Rioting.
By Telegram to The Freeman.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—A special to the Platypus from Greenwood says: "For the last month a Negro named Cromwell has been organizing, as it was thought, alliances in this part of the Delta. On Wednesday a number of Negroes belonging to the Alliance demanded that some one beside Cromwell be placed at the head of the Alliance movement, as they claimed he was an ex-convict and they were afraid to trust him. This occurred at Shell Mound, 10 miles above here on the Tallahatchie River. A majority of the Negro Alliance voted in favor of Cromwell, and he retained his position. The next day Cromwell received a letter signed anonymously with cross-bones, skeleton, etc., ordering him to quit his work and leave the country within 10 days. He showed the letter to the Negroes, and the same evening the whites at Shell Mound received a warning from the Negroes signed 'Three thousand armed men,' saying that they proposed to stand by Cromwell and if any efforts were made to disturb him that they would kill, burn and destroy Shell Mound. About 75 armed Negroes came into town and talked in a very loud and threatening manner. The general belief is that Cromwell wrote the first letter himself and had it addressed and mailed to him at Shell Mound."

Governor Lowrey sent two companies to Sunnyside to report to the Sheriff, who went up there yesterday morning to see if he could do any good with the Negroes. The steamboat running between here and Sharkey has just come in, bringing a number of women and children. Governor Lowrey cautions the people to be free from all violence, and not to violate the law in any particular, but to assist the County authorities in enforcing it. There were several reports from the scene of the trouble last evening, one of which was that the Negroes had left the vicinity of Sunny Side, breaking up into bands of 20 or 30, and they seemed to be sulky and in bad humor.

The Times-Democrat has the following account of the riot at Goudsboro Sunday morning: "An excursion had just returned from Baton Rouge freighted with about 500 colored people, more than half of whom were women and children. Either just before or very shortly after the train had come to a standstill two or three shots were fired, which caused a tremendous panic among the excursionists, who threw themselves from the train pell-mell and scattered away in two or three different directions, under a decidedly brisk fusillade from Winchester rifles, shot-guns and revolvers. Those who witnessed the scene described it as one of the wildest excitement. Shortly before the arrival of the train there was a large crowd of whites, besides the levee, but the remains of the fire threw considerable light on the scene, and enabled the panic-stricken Negroes to make their way to the street-car tracks and down the railroad nearly, or quite, as rapidly as though it had been daylight, while those who were firing among them were enabled to determine at least the general direction in which the Negroes were hurrying. The stories of the row and its origin differ very widely. The Negroes say that before the arrival of the train there was a large crowd of armed white men awaiting it, and that some 10 minutes after the train had stopped and after a portion of the excursionists had reached the street cars, and while others were still on board the train, the white men, without any sort of provocation, opened fire on the Negroes from the levee. The white men's version of the affair as given by eye-witnesses differs very materially from that of the Negroes. They state that there was only a half-dozen white men concerned in the affair and that the shooting was commenced by the Negroes before the train had stopped. Two shots were fired from the train at a white boy named Burnette just as the train was coming into the station. Then William Miller was shot in the face by a Negro, as the police officer, who was on the train, and brother of the wounded man, attempted to arrest the would-be murderer. At this the Negroes opened fire on the whites and the latter returning their fire, the shooting became general and the excursionists fled panic-stricken from the scene. The whites in and about Goudsboro seemed disinclined to talk and with the exception of Officer Miller and a young man named Usher seemed to know next to nothing of the affair."

The Times-Democrat, in commenting on the Goudsboro riot, says: "The act of violence of burning the Negro Church close to the scene of the disturbance was a wanton atrocity in keeping with similar crimes of incendiarism which occurred in the Gretna riot a few months ago. Whatever may be the cause of the incendiarism, it is a crime of the most heinous kind, and a word can be uttered in palliation or justification of this last grave offense. It was a wanton, deliberate, detestable crime, and the men who committed it are a disgrace to their State and to the country. This whole affair should be investigated by the most rigid investigation by the local and State authorities."

Fatal Shooting Affray on Sunday.
By Telegram to The Freeman.

EDWARDSVILLE, Kans., Sept. 2.—A shooting affray occurred here yesterday between two Negroes, in which William Butler shot "once of burning the Negro Church close to the scene of the disturbance was a wanton atrocity in keeping with similar crimes of incendiarism which occurred in the Gretna riot a few months ago. Whatever may be the cause of the incendiarism, it is a crime of the most heinous kind, and a word can be uttered in palliation or justification of this last grave offense. It was a wanton, deliberate, detestable crime, and the men who committed it are a disgrace to their State and to the country. This whole affair should be investigated by the most rigid investigation by the local and State authorities."

Suicide of a Woman-Hater.
By Telegram to The Freeman.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2.—Charles G. Luth, a notorious woman-hater, committed suicide yesterday in a garret in which he eked out a miserable existence for years. He was a cabinet-maker and wood-carver. He made good wages, but when he did not wish to work, his neighbors were trying to find out. He is said to have been disappointed in love in his youth, and ever afterwards manifested the strongest aversion to women.

Accident to a Ball Player.
By Telegram to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Two police calling themselves the "Doctors" and "Undertakers" engaged in a game of base ball here yesterday. In the seventh inning, when the Undertakers were well in the lead, James McVerney, their pitcher, was delivering a ball in a pool of blood. It is said that McVerney had quarreled with his husband and frequently threatened his life. Holmes was 65 years of age and his wife 20 years younger.

The Athletic Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association has not yet "grasped the idea" of having a hand in controlling the general athletics of the East.

The Athletic Committee of the Association is represented by the Board of Directors. To learn why this association does not affiliate with the Amateur Athletic Union, a New York Times reporter called last Tuesday upon George Pool, who is at the head of the athletic department of the association, and who stated that in his opinion the Association is not yet "grasped the idea" of having a hand in controlling the general athletics of the East.

LABOR DAY GENERALLY OBSERVED.

Many Parades, Picnics and Excursions Held in Various Villages and Cities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Labor Day here was ushered in by bright sunshine. From early morning the streets were crowded by sturdy sons of toil. It was noticed, however, that large numbers of working girls trudged along as usual with their lunch in hand. In the majority of cases it was found that they worked in cigar factories and other concerns, the owners of which had no respect for Labor Day on the east coast. It was also noticeable that many factories blew their 7 o'clock whistle. During the morning neither the street nor elevated railroads did much business, but in the afternoon they were taxed to accommodate the vast pleasure bent throngs who were out for various picnic grounds and parks or left the City for a day's outing by the seaside or some suburban haunt. The boat club houses along the Harlem River were tastefully decorated with bunting. In the cool morning hours many sculls and gigs were out. The men were taking an exercise spin so as to limber up for the exciting events for which they had entered during the day.

The parks on the East and North River fronts represented a sea of flags, bunting and streamers of every hue and color surmounted by the Stars and Stripes. Jones' Wood, where the Ancient Order of Hibernians held forth for its gay appearance. On the west side Union Park, selected by the Volunteer Firemen for their annual picnic and barbecue, was decked from top to toe. A stroll down the avenues and side streets showed that flags were flying from many private houses. The same may be said of the public buildings. All the exchanges were closed, and the Custom House, purely for clearance purposes, was kept open from 9 to 10 o'clock. St. John's Guild Hospital also had its outing. The expense of the excursion was borne by W. K. Vanderbilt. Six hundred and forty mothers and children were treated to a sail.

Dispatches from other points tell of picnics, etc.

LONDON STRIKE STILL UNSETTLED.

Quarrel Over Division of a Relief Fund—Action of a Mob this Afternoon.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The great strike is still in force and the situation this morning was unchanged. There are signs of grumbling among the strikers over the division of the relief funds. The stevedores complain that they are not receiving their proper share of the funds. But the men generally stand firm, and there is nothing like serious defection in the ranks. Three thousand tailors struck this morning and are parading the streets.

The dock companies express themselves as better satisfied with the action of affairs. They have an increased number of men at work, composed of strikers who have given up the fight and new men. The officials of the companies state that plenty of labor would be obtainable if the strikers pickets were abolished.

Information has been received by the police and by Home Secretary Matthews that John Burns to-day urged the strikers to proceed to the docks and expell the men working there.

DUNDEE, Sept. 2.—A Trades Union Congress session here has adopted resolutions to the effect that the London strikers were justified in their demands, and that the employers were arbitrary in their actions. The Congress also called upon the various trades of the United Kingdom to render the strikers all possible financial support.

A mob of 800 strikers invaded the Albert Docks this afternoon, and compelled the workmen there to cease their labors.

MILLIONAIRE THAW'S WILL PROBATED.

His Relatives are Well Remembered—Many Large Legacies.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—The will of William Thaw, the dead millionaire railroad king, has just been probated. It occupies 36 pages of type-written folio. Mr. Thaw's estate, except his real estate, is divided into 10 equal parts. The coal lands are to be held until all his minor children become of age when they are expected to be worth $13,000,000. His wife gets three-sixteenths of the estate, his 10 children one-sixteenth each, and from the remaining sixteenth are to be paid a large number of private and public bequests. The large public legacies are as follows: Western University, of Pennsylvania, $100,000; Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, $50,000; Forester, $20,000; College Board, $20,000; Ohio Presbytery, $20,000; American Board, $20,000; Pittsburgh Hospital, $100,000 (both Protestant and Catholic institutions being remembered). All debts of dependent friends are cancelled.

Many Lives Endangered by Fire.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Fire was discovered at 1 o'clock this morning in John Blanks' saloon and boarding-house, on Cottage Grove Avenue. Fifteen boarders were asleep on the second floor, and Blanks, his wife and a two-year-old daughter, and Mrs. Blanks' mother, aged 80. THE strike demonstration in Hyde Park, London, yesterday was attended by 150,000 workmen. The resolution to continue the strike till it succeeds was adopted with great emphasis. But the Economist predicts trouble if it succeeds. The demand for four hours as the minimum of a day's work will, it says, largely increase the number of men seeking work at the docks. Only a few will be benefited, while the lot of the many will be harder than ever. "The law of the survival of the fittest will be exemplified by the strike, the wide-reaching consequences of which will be unprecedented in London's history." American workmen will please make a note of the fact that the plan of making the day's work four hours long and paying 12 cents an hour or 48 cents a day is expected to throw thousands of men out of work and slave them to death in that great centre of free trade, the English metropolis.

FIGHT BETWEEN WHITES AND NEGROES An Alliance Formed by Colored Men—Contending Stories—Closing.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—A special to the Pineyune from Greenwood says: "For the last month a Negro named Cromwell has been organizing, as it was thought, alliances in this part of the Delta. On Wednesday a number of Negroes belonging to the Alliance demanded that some one beside Cromwell be placed at the head of the Alliance movement, as they claimed he was an ex-convict and they were afraid to trust him. This occurred at Shell Mound, 10 miles above here on the Tallahatchie River. A majority of the Negro Alliance voted in favor of Cromwell, and he retained his position. The next day Cromwell received a letter signed anonymously with cross-bones, skeleton, etc., ordering him to quit his work and leave the country within 10 days. He showed the letter to the Negroes, and the same evening the whites at Shell Mound received a warning from the Negroes signed 'Three thousand armed men,' saying that they proposed to stand by Cromwell and if any others were made to disturb him that they would kill, burn and destroy Shell Mound. About 75 armed Negroes came into town and talked in a very loud and threatening manner. The general belief is that Cromwell wrote the first letter himself and had it addressed and mailed to him at Shell Mound."

Governor Lowrey sent two companies to Shell Mound yesterday morning to see if he could do anything with the Negroes. The steamboat running between here and Sharkey has just come in, bringing a number of women and children. Governor Lowrey said upon the people to be free from all violence, and not to violate the law in any particular, but to assist the County authorities in enforcing it. There were several reports from the scene of the trouble last evening, one of which was that the Negroes had left the vicinity of Sunny Side, breaking up into bands of 20 or 30, and they seemed to be sulky and in bad humor.

THE Times-Democrat has the following account of the riot at Goldsboro Sunday morning: "An excursion had just returned from Baton Rouge freighted with about 300 colored people. They disembarked at a white women and children, and either just before or very shortly after the train had come to a standstill two or three shots were fired, which caused a tremendous panic among the excursionists, who threw themselves from the train pell-mell and scattered away in two or three different directions, under a decidedly brisk fusillade from Winchester rifles, shot-guns and revolvers. Those who remained on the train, the white men, without any sort of provocation, opened fire on the retreating crowd. The white men's version of the affair as given by eyewitnesses differs very materially from the Negroes' version. There was only a half-dozen white men concerned in the affair and that the shooting was commenced by the Negroes before the train had stopped. Two shots were fired from the train, the first named. Just as the train was coming into the station, then William Miller was shot in the face by a Negro, as the latter was getting off the train. Miller, a police officer, of Goldsboro, who was one of the wounded men, attempted to arrest the would-be murderer. At this the Negroes opened fire on the whites and the latter returning their fire, the shooting became general and the excursionists fled panic-stricken from the scene. The whites in and about Goldsboro seemed disinclined to talk and with the exception of Officer Miller and a young man named Usher seemed to know next to nothing of the affair."

THE Times-Democrat, in commenting on the Goldsboro riot, says: "The act of vandalism of burning the Negro Church close to the scene of the disturbance was a piece of armed white men awaiting it, and that some 10 minutes after the train had stopped and after a portion of the excursionists had reached the shore cars, and the others were still on board the train, the white men, without any sort of provocation, opened fire on the retreating crowd. FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY ON SUNDAY. By Telegram to the Freeman. EDWARDSVILLE, KANS., Sept. 2.—A shooting affray occurred here yesterday between two Negroes, in which William Butler, Charles Brown and another colored man, whose name has not been learned. The bullet passed through the neck of the unknown man and lodged in Brown's neck. Both men were dangerously wounded. The quarrel occurred over a woman.

VINITA, I. T., Sept. 2.—A shooting affray occurred yesterday at Table Springs, 25 miles west of here, which resulted in the death of two men named Moraine and Given and the arrest of a third named Pixley. Given had accused Moraine and Pixley of horse-stealing. The two latter indicted to procure a retrial of the statement. In the quarrel that ensued Given and Moraine drew their revolvers and fired until both had fallen. Pixley, with a hammer, pounded Given's brains out. Moraine died shortly afterwards.

At about 3:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon John Woods, for many years an employee of the Kingston and Rondout Gas Works Company, went into a man-hole to do some work and was suffocated by gas. He lived but a short time after being taken out. Coroner Carr was summoned. The deceased was about 50 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children. The Coroner, after investigating the cause of death, decided not to call a jury of inquest.

On Saturday James Gitty, while working in an ice house, fell and sustained severe scalp wounds. The wounds were sewed up and he was taken home. On Saturday night James, broke his halter and found his way to the city. All day Sunday Gitty had to "git" up and down the street with the horse to save his life.

On Saturday afternoon Patrick O'Reilly received a telephone message that a horse on the Strand had run a rusty nail into its foot. He was asked to bring a hammer and blacksmith tools to pull it out. O'Reilly left a shop full of work and looked for the horse. It was not long before he learned that he was the victim of what was called a "joke."

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE.

Storm Formations—Simple Pattern of an Incandescent Lamp, Etc.

Conclusions arrived at in relation to storm formations show that theories hitherto advanced are extremely unsatisfactory, and that above all things positive information of the process going on in the upper strata is necessary; that the dependence of the generation of storms on temperature distribution in the vertical direction appears open to doubt, and that, reasoning from the behavior of thunder storms it seems possible that some electrical action not thoroughly understood supplies the force which keeps up their energy.

At the meeting of the Hygiene Congress in Paris it was decided that the pollution of underground watercourses and of rivers by the residue of factories should in principle be forbidden, and that the water from factories should not flow into a stream till it had been proved to be absolutely free from all injurious substances.

Numerous observations made in France show that on meeting an insulated metallic or carbon conductor the solar rays communicate to it a positive charge; that the amplitude of this charge increases with the intensity of the rays and decreases with the hygrometric state of the air.

A simple pattern of an incandescent lamp has lately been introduced in France, consisting of two horizontal rods of copper, placed about four millimeters apart. A thin, pointed rod of carbon, placed vertically, rests on the copper rods and forms a bridge between them.

A series of studies on the pigment of grains show that solid pigments are scarcely ever presented under the form of leucite, and they derive directly from the protoplasm.

It is claimed that the methods recently employed in determining the electric conductivity of salts in solution cannot be directly applied beyond the melting point of glass.

The employment of citrate of ammonia, dissolved in water, has recently been successfully employed as an electrolytic exciting agent for galvanic batteries.

SOME FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST.

Red Directorate Long Coats—How to Freshen a Hat—New Shades, Etc.

Some brilliant red Directorate long coats are seen upon the fashionable promenade of the various resorts, these elaborately decorated with esped-collars, bands and special ornaments in black passementerie, some of the pyramidal and elaborate arabesque designs reaching half the length of the garment on the sides, and the front of the skirt portion. Beneath these are worn lace skirts or accordion-plaited ones of the palest lilac, pearl, ecrus, sea-green or primrose color silk. The contrast of the brilliant color of the red with the soft delicate shade of the skirt is striking and is a way picture square, but is not admissible on the street even at a very fashionable watering place.

An excellent way to freshen a favorite round hat somewhat faded by their exposure to the summer sunshine is to sponge the hat with borax water and a bit of castile soap to cleanse it thoroughly. When dry cover the rim with spangled net, either black or white. Shirl this close to the crown, leaving the outer edge nearly plain, simply veiling the net behind the crown.

A large Alsatian box of wide ribbon and a cluster of bright flowers will cover the crown, and you have a nearly new hat that will answer for rough and ready wear until a colder weather head-covering is needed.

The new strawberry, old rose, and heliotrope shades are delicious in their tints. Green is again a conspicuous color. There are also many reddish and coppery browns, and some novel red dyes and shades in terra-cotta.

Nearly all of the blues are of a silvery cast, while the grays verge on lilac, or have a greenish hue bordering on magnolia or sage. Black garteries are used to tone the brightest of these colors, supercilious slimp and bands in applique being a favorite trimming. Plain fabrics are shown, woven with designs that include both passementerie and braiding. Shell and palm arabesques, reproduced in shaded floss-silks, are woven like borders of Indian shawls in harmonious blendings of many colors.

HOURS OF SUMMER RECREATION.

Outings at Points Up and Down the Hudson River and in this City.

The excursion of the Livingston-Street Lutheran Church to-day on the large Sarah Smith to West-Point was largely attended.

A Workman Suffocated by Gas—James Cummings' Suit Against the City—Meetings Soon to be Held—The Schools Open Tomorrow—An Alleged Joke.

At about 3:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon John Woods, for many years an employee of the Kingston and Rondout Gas Works Company, went into a man-hole to do some work and was suffocated by gas. He lived but a short time after being taken out. Coroner Carr was summoned. The deceased was about 50 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children. The Coroner, after investigating the cause of death, decided not to call a jury of inquest.

On Saturday James Gitty, while working in an ice house, fell and sustained several wounds. The wounds were sewed up and he was taken home. On Saturday night a horse owned by William Gitty, brother of James, broke his halter and found its way to the city hall. All day Sunday Gitty had to "git" up and down the street with the horse to save its life.

On Saturday afternoon Patrick O'Reilly received a telephone message that a horse on the Strand had run a rusty nail into its foot. He was asked to bring a hammer and blacksmith tools to pull it out. O'Reilly left a shop full of work and looked for the horse. It was not long before he learned that he was the victim of what was called a "joke."

In the latter part of last month the new moon came up the sky-scoop down, indicating, according to Indian lore, a continuance of the drip. Last night the crescent sailed down the western sky like a heavily silvered canoe right side up—ergo, can folks here confidently look for a dry, serene September!

Storm Formations—Simple Pattern of an Incandescent Lamp, Etc.

Conclusions arrived at in relation to storm formations show that theories thus far advanced are extremely unsatisfactory, and that there is still a positive information of the process going on in the upper strata is necessary; that the dependence of the generation of storms on temperature distribution in the vertical direction appears open to doubt, and that, reasoning from the behavior of thunder storms it seems possible that some electrical action not thoroughly understood supplies the force which keeps up their energy.

At the meeting of the Hygiene Congress in Paris it was decided that the pollution of underground watercourses and of rivers by the residue of factories should in principle be forbidden, and that the water from factories should not flow into a stream till it had been proved to be absolutely free from all injurious substances.

Numerous observations made in France show that on meeting an insulated metallic or carbon conductor the solar rays communicate to it a positive charge; that the amplitude of this charge increases with the intensity of the rays and decreases with the hygrometric state of the air.

A simple pattern of an incandescent lamp has lately been introduced in France, consisting of two horizontal rods of copper, placed about four millimeters apart. A thin, pointed rod of carbon, placed vertically, rests on the copper rods and forms a bridge between them.

A series of studies on the pigment of grains show that solid pigments are rarely ever presented under the form of beads, and they derive directly from the protoplasm.

SOME FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST.

Red Directorate Long Coats—How to Freshen a Hat—New Shades, Etc.

Some brilliant red Directorate long coats are seen upon the fashionable promenades at the various resorts, these elaborately decorated with red collar, cuffs and special ornaments in black passementerie, some of the pyramidal and elaborate arabesque designs reaching half the length of the garment on the side seams, and points on the front of the skirt portion. Beneath these are worn lace skirts or accordion-plaited ones of the palest blue, pearl, or purplish China silk.

The contrast of the brilliant color of the redingote with the soft delicate shade of the dress is striking and in a way picturesque, but is not admissible on the street even at a very fashionable watering place.

An excellent way to freshen a favorite round hat whose straw and ribbon trimmings have become somewhat faded by their exposure to the summer sunshine is to sponge the hat with borax water and a bit of castile soap to cleanse it thoroughly. When dry cover the rim with sprigged net, either black or white. Shift this close to the crown, leaving the outer edge nearly plain, simply veiling the hat with the net.

Under a large sheet of wide ribbon and a cluster of bright flowers will cover the crown, and you have a nearly new hat that will answer for rough and ready wear until a cold-weather head covering is needed.

The new strawberrie, old rose, and heliograph shades are delicious in their tints. Green is again a conspicuous color. There are also many reds and coppery browns, and some novel red dyes and shades in terra-cotta. Nearly all of the blues are of a silver cast, while the grays verge on lilac, or have a greenish blue bordering on monochrome or black. Green tints are used to tone the brightest of the colors, superb silk gowns and bands in applique being a favorite trimming. Plain fabrics are shown, woven with designs that imitate both passementerie and braiding. Shell and palm arabesques, reproduced in shaded rose-silks, are woven like Indian shawls in harmonious blendings of many colors.

HOURS OF SUMMER RECREATION.

Outings at Points Up and Down the Hudson River and in this City.

A Workman Suffocated by Gas.—James Cummings' Suit Against the City.—Meetings Soon to be Held.—The Schools Open Tomorrow.—An Alleged Joke.

About 3:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon John Woods, for many years an employee of the Kingston and Rondout Gas Works Company, went into a man-hole to do some work and was suffocated by gas. He lived but a short time after being taken out. Coroner Carr was summoned. The deceased was about 50 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children. The Coroner, after investigating the cause of death, decided not to call a jury of inquest.

On Saturday James Gitty, while working in an ice house, fell and sustained severe scalp wounds. The wounds were sewed up and he was taken home. On Saturday night a horse owned by William Gitty, brother of James, broke its halter and found its way to the city. All day Sunday Gitty had to "git" up and down the street with the horse to save its life.

On Saturday afternoon Patrick O'Reilly received a telephone message that a horse on the Strand had run a rusty nail into its foot. He was asked to bring a hammer and blacksmith tools to pull it out. O'Reilly left a shop full of work and looked for the horse. It was not long before he learned that he was the victim of what was called a "joke."

In the latter part of last month the new moon came up the sky-scoop down, indicating, according to Indian lore, a continuation of the crop. Last night the crescent sailed down the western sky like a lovely silver canoe right side up—ergo, can folks here confidently look for a dry, serene September?

"No, doctor, I am positive I have not the heart disease." "How do you know?" Because I attended the Common Council proceedings all in the same day and I am still living."

The name of the village of Corona, New Jersey, has been changed to Hasbrouck in honor of Jacob D. Hasbrouck, General Manager of the New Jersey & New York Railroad. Mr. Hasbrouck formerly resided in this City.
